ANTIOCH BOARD SETS "CLEAN-UP" DAYS FOR VILLAGE

Plan to Rid Town of Rub- bish Friday and Satur- day, May 3 and 4

Following the custom of years in aiding citizens to get rid of unsightly rubbish that has accumulated during the winter months, the Antioch board of trustees has designated Friday and Saturday, May 3 and 4, as "clean-up" days for the town.

On these days village owned trucks will be used for hauling rubbish for householders, and the service will be free. All that is asked of citizens is their co-operation by way of placing in boxes, barrels, cartons, or other containers all material they wish hauled away and placing such containers near the curb so truckmen may pick them up.

The village truckmen will haul about everything in the line of rubbish except ashes, Mayor Bartlett said today.

ANTIOCH FIREMEN SELECT STEARNS CHIEF FOR 10TH YEAR

Fire Chief James Stearns was re-elected by the Antioch Firemen's association for the tenth consecutive year at the meeting held here Tuesday evening which was attended by 30 firemen and a number of visitors.

Stearns was first made chief on March 23, 1926. His selection by the firemen each year has received the approval of the village board of trustees. "Election" of a chief by the firemen is a recommendation of their selection, which under the Illinois law, must be approved by the village board. This is usually done at the first meeting of the board following election in April.

Will Attend Libertyville Meet.

A number of local firemen are planning to attend the monthly meeting of the county association at Libertyville Monday night. This is to be a meeting on the "Safety First Movement." The speaker will be Sidney J. Williams, director of Public Safety division of the National Safety Council, Chicago.

County firemen are also making plans for the big annual meeting to be held in Lake Villa the last of May.

Lake Villa Man Is Honored for Long Service With Insurance Company

James Kerr, agent at Lake Villa, was today presented with a gold sign by The American Insurance Company of Newark, New Jersey, in recognition of his agency having faithfully represented that company for over a quarter of a century. The presentation was made by a Western department representative of the company, who spoke highly of his ability in handling the company's interests.

Mr. Kerr also received a congratulatory letter from Paul B. Sommers, President of The American Insurance Company, who has taken a personal interest in the event. "More important than all," wrote Mr. Sommers, "is the bond of friendship which has held us together, and we hope it may grow even stronger in the years to come. Great credit is due you in that your business has endured and prospered for so many years. Few agencies have been in existence for so long a period, and your past record should be a heritage symbolic of future achievements."

Mr. Kerr has represented The American Insurance Company since 1901, and his many clients will doubtless join in wishing the agency continued success.

George White Again Heads School Board

George White was re-elected president of the Antioch Township High School Board of Education at the organization meeting held at the high school Saturday night. Mrs. Helen Osmond was re-elected secretary.

Other members of the board are: Mrs. Jean Ferris, Paul Zelen and Clarence Crowley who was re-elected April 13.

Dr. L. J. Zimmerman Moves Dental Office

Dr. L. J. Zimmerman moved his dental office from the Webb building to the Grice building Monday of this week. He is occupying the suite formerly used by the late Dr. F. S. Morrell, located over the Antioch post office.

FIND SMALLPOX IN SCHOOLS NEAR ANTIOCH

School Board Meets To- night; Vaccination May Be Ordered

With the threat of a smallpox epidemic hovering over nearby communities, the Antioch grade school board will meet tonight to consider what steps are to be taken to prevent the spread of the malady among school children and others in this community.

The serious nature of the smallpox menace was revealed two days ago by County Nurse Ruby McKenzie of Kenosha county who summarized the county situation by declaring that outbreaks of the disease have appeared in every township of the county. She stated that the necessity for drastic action in all school districts came with the development of several cases of the highly contagious disease and their discovery in the class rooms of the county school system.

Cause for alarm in Antioch was caused by the discovery of several cases of the disease in Bristol community.

Dr. H. F. Beebe, Antioch health officer, said today that a general vaccination order was in contemplation. He said:

"Owing to the epidemic of smallpox in and around Bristol, the danger of its spread to Antioch is imminent. There is only one preventative and that is vaccination. Every unvaccinated child, and family, died Wednesday in the vaccination."

SET CLOCK AHEAD! DAYLIGHT SAVING STARTS SUNDAY

The final sign that spring is here presents itself Sunday with Daylight saving schedules becoming effective throughout the Chicago metropolitan area and continuing through the summer until Sept. 29.

According to the rules, clocks and watches shall be set an hour ahead at 2 a. m. Sunday, but most folks will probably have knocked off several hours of slumber by that hour, so it is the common practice to violate the rules and pump the old alarm clock an hour ahead before hitting the hay on Saturday evening.

Inasmuch as Chicago has observed daylight time for the past several years, nearly all towns and villages in northern Illinois have adopted the practice. Waukegan's city council passed an ordinance last Monday, arranging for daylight saving time.

Holy Name Society to Hold 3rd Annual Banquet Monday

The third annual Holy Name banquet at St. Peter's hall will be held Monday, April 29th, at 7 o'clock and arrangements have been made to accommodate 300, according to President Robert McCann. The dinner will be in charge of the women of the church.

Prominent among the speakers will be Monsignor Daniel Byrnes and Judge Joseph Burke of Chicago. Entertainment features will be in charge of Mrs. Grace Jyrch, who will also offer a number of musical selections.

Hendee Loses In Appellate Court; Plans to Appeal

Fight of Lew A. Hendee, county clerk, to retain his position suffered another setback when the appellate court on Saturday refused to hear his petition for a rehearing of his appeal from the court of Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady, who two months ago certified Russ Alford, democratic candidate for the office of county clerk.

Hendee will appeal to the supreme court and if he fails there he will ask a recount of the ballots cast for county clerk in the November election.

Although declared as elected by a majority of 137 votes by the election canvassing board Judge Dady ruled that Alford instead should be certified for the post when the latter carried his claims to the court on a writ of mandamus. Dady in his ruling took 100 votes cast in Round Lake from Hendee's total and gave Alford 119 votes which had not been credited to him in Highland.

Indications are that the issue will not be settled for at least another year.

Visiting preachers will officiate at St. Ignace church on Sundays April 28th and May 5th.

Better Housing Program Is Launched in Antioch; See $100,000 Improvement

Antioch Citizens Endorse Better Housing Program

GEORGE B. BARTLETT, village president, and general chairman of the Better Housing Program:

"I am happy to serve as chairman of the Better Housing campaign in this community. I believe the movement will relieve much unemployment and create better living conditions. The program, if pursued with vigilance, will undoubtedly accomplish the purposes for which it is intended."

ARTHUR MAPLETHORPE, property owner and member of Publicity Committee:

"I am sure that it is not necessary to tell property owners of the importance of maintaining property. Repairs which may be minor at the moment, if too long deferred will cost a great deal later on. * * * Your home, your business building, your store, may represent a major portion of your life's savings. It is the part of wisdom to protect it and preserve it."

JAMES STEARNS, Antioch Fire Chief: Upkeep of property is sound business practice, and there are many reasons why property owners should make improvements now. Prices of labor and materials are at fair levels; then there is the indisputable fact that over 50 per cent of fires originate in buildings in a state of disrepair—defective chimneys, electric wiring, crumbling plaster or complete lack of plaster on exposed walls, and faulty roofs—all contributing factors to the ever present fire hazard.

HERB J. VOS, Chairman Executive Committee: The campaign in this community will be most helpful in relieving distress among the unemployed. Approximately one-third of all families now on relief in our community are the families of workers normally engaged in building. It is estimated that for every building tradesman put back to work, on the average, a family of four can be taken off the relief rolls.

JAS. BUCKLEY, President Buckley Sand & Gravel Co.—I know the people of Antioch will get behind this campaign and back it to the limit. It is a real opportunity for us to improve local business conditions, to relieve distress, and to increase property values and beautify the city. * * * There is a real need for modernization work. Too much of it has been too long delayed during the depression. The value of many properties will be seriously jeopardized unless this work is undertaken immediately.

To Hold Open House at Antioch Grade School May 9 - 10

Annual visiting days at the Antioch grade schools will be May 9 and 10. Principal Ralph Clabaugh announced today. On those days all patrons and friends of the school are invited to call and inspect the school art exhibit and the progress of the work in the several rooms. School will be in session as usual and visitors may come and go as they choose.

The event has been a custom at the grade school for many years.

Special Services at M. E. Church Sunday

A special feature of the morning services at the M. E. Church Sunday is the presentation of "The Life of Christ" in pictures. This is a picture being used by several of the churches in the community, and is very highly recommended. The choir will sing the sacred cantata, "Our Risen Lord and King" at 11:00 o'clock.

Auto Death Rate High In County

With 58.7 deaths for each 100,000 Lake county is the fourth worst county in Illinois for fatal automobile accidents, according to figures for 1934 just released by Dr. Frank J. Jirka, director of public health. The entire state rate was 32.6.

Dr. Jirka's statistics disclose Lake, Edgar and Will counties as having an average fatal motor accident rate much higher than all other counties for the past five years.

MAYOR BARTLETT IS GENERAL CHAIRMAN OF COMMUNITY PLAN

H. J. Vos Heads Executive Committee; Plan Exhibit in Naber Building

Antioch and the lakes region is to have a community-wide modernization and improvement campaign as a part of the National Housing program sponsored by the Federal Housing Administration. The movement was launched a week ago at a dinner held at Hotel Waldo when business and civic leaders of the community heard an outline of the plan given by S. H. Rice and Tom Henderson, representatives of the Federal Housing Administration, and chose Mayor George B. Bartlett as general chairman to head the campaign.

Will Hold Exhibit.
The chairman lost no time in naming members of the various committees to promote the detail work connected with the campaign, chief of which was the announcement by the executive committee headed by Herb J. Vos that arrangements are being completed to hold an exhibit in the Naber building on Main street which will open in a few days and run for the month of May.

The following committees have been appointed and several meetings have already been held at which details of the campaign have been arranged.

Appoint Committees
The chairman lost no time in naming members of the various committees to promote the detail work connected with the campaign, chief of which was the announcement by the executive committee headed by Herb J. Vos that arrangements are being completed to hold an exhibit in the Naber building on Main street which will open in a few days and run for the month of May.

Executive committee: H. J. Vos, chairman; W. R. Williams, Ben R. Burke, C. K. Anderson, George B. Bartlett, Elmer Sorenson, Ray Reichard, and Mrs. W. W. Warriner.

Loan committee: H. Smith, chairman; J. E. Brook, William A. Rosling and E. Morley Webb.

Finance committee: C. K. Anderson, chairman, and Ray Reichard. Publicity committee: H. B. Gaston, chairman, John L. Horan, L. O. Bright, W. C. Petty, S. B. Nelson, Robert C. Abbott, Arthur Maplethorpe, James Buckley and J. C. James.

Antioch Ladies committee: Mrs. John Robbins, chairman; Mrs. P. E. Chin, Mrs. Ardis Anzinger, Mrs. Hugo Mitchell and Mrs. H. J. Vos.

See $100,000 Improvement

It has been estimated that the campaign will be productive of improvements in the locality that will total $100,000, the nearest approach to the high building record of 1926 when three quarters of a million dollars was spent in the community's building and improvement projects.

Mr. Rice, the federal representative of the National Housing Program, and spokesman at the dinner Thursday night, explained the plan for community modernization in detail.

He said: "The Federal Government has provided a plan under which local lending institutions can make money available to property owners for repairs and improvements at the lowest charges ever offered for this type of loan."

The purpose will be to inform every property owner in the city how he can take advantage of this new financing plan and of the desirability of making necessary improvements to his property at this time.

"This campaign will have an immediate and most important effect on every type of business in the community. It will, of course, benefit the building industry first, and there is no industry which has been harder hit than building and there are few which are so important to this community. But it will also have a direct effect on all other lines of activity."

Soon to Labor

"Approximately 75 cents of every dollar spent for repairs and improvements go to local labor. Most of the money they receive in wages is immediately put back into the chain of retail trade. Bill is paid."

THE BETTER HOUSING PROGRAM

Civic leaders of this community are giving their unqualified endorsement to the Better Housing Program to be launched here during the month of May. They believe that the program will give great impetus to business rehabilitation and prove a tremendous aid in general welfare.

1. Idle dollars will be put to work.—These dollars have been idle because banks and other financial institutions have hesitated to loan the depositors' money for home modernization and construction. The cause for this hesitation has been removed by the Government insurance of such loans as provided in the National Housing Act. With the credit jam freed, with these unemployed dollars at work, the huge construction and building industry will be rejuvenated.

2. The revival of a greatly depressed industry resulting in millions of workers returning to remunerative employment.—Such an activity will stimulate all lines of business and will greatly accelerate the upward spiral of business recovery.

3. Better and bappier homes for thousands of American families is the third important objective of the National Housing Act.

The tremendous cessation of activity in the construction industry has brought this country to the point where inadequate housing has become a serious problem. There is an actual lack of hundreds of thousands of needed houses and thousands of old houses are deteriorating to the point of abandonment.

For 5 years general business conditions have not been good. Banks and other lending agencies require security and liquidity. These two requirements have been lacking so far as loans for modernization of existing homes and the building of new homes are concerned. The shrinkage in values of real property and other collateral has made it seem unwise for banks and other financial agencies to loan to home owners without further security. Then, again, unsecured personal loans of adequate length of time necessary for the purpose needed, even of the highest integrity, are not sufficiently liquid to meet the proper requirements of good banking practice.

To bring this idle money out into the open and cause it to go to work, the National Housing Act provides safety and liquidity.

With home and other property owners taking full advantage of the Better Housing Program, this community is certain to reap rich and important benefits. With credit flowing more freely and idle money at work, many of our unemployed will once more find themselves on pay rolls. Every business here will be stimulated. The spiral of business recovery will move more rapidly upward, carrying our whole community to higher levels of living and prosperity.

WHEN SPRING IS IN THE AIR

This is the time of year when that seasonal "dis-ease," spring fever, runs its course. One of its more common manifestations is an urge to clean up one's property, in order to get rid of winter's accumulation of rubbish, both indoors and out.

For many years village officials in Antioch have cooperated with property owners in the annual spring clean up, and this year May 3 and 4 has been designated as the time when village trucks will haul rubbish for householders free of charge.

These individual clean-up campaigns are usually inaugurated for the purpose of improving a home's physical appearance—but, whether the property-owner realizes it or not, they likewise contribute toward fattening his pocketbook, inasmuch as they eliminate many ordinary and unnecessary fire hazards.

The attic is one of the places in the home where odds and ends accumulate—and it is also one of the commonest starting places for residential fires. That accumulation of ancient newspapers—those dog-eared magazines—those old clothes which you'll never wear again—that broken down furniture, all offer an invitation to fire. Start your clean-up campaign by giving these cast-offs to the needy, either directly or through some local charitable organization, where they can give comfort and use again. Then burn the sheer rubbish—and be sure to accomplish that latter task on a windless day, with the aid of an incinerator.

Closets should be subjected to the same process. And the chances are that your basement is in about the same state of disorder as your attic. Due to the nearness of the heating plant, basements are one of the most prolific sources of fire and should be kept free of papers, rags and improperly stored inflammables.

Spring is likewise an excellent time for having the furnace and heating equipment gone over, to prepare it for fall. Another worth-while job is inspection of electric wiring—old, defective and sub-standard wiring starts many a fire.

Spring is here! Clean up—lest you burn up.

THE TOO WELL REMEMBERED MAN

In a recent article in "Fortune," Rosewell Magill, professor of law at Columbia, discusses the plight of the "Too Well Remembered Man"—the American taxpayer.

Mr. Magill points out that there are three basic criteria to apply as yardsticks to any tax system. The first of these is adequacy—does the system produce as much revenue as is needed. The second is economy in administration—how much of each tax dollar is required to pay the costs of collection? The third is fairness in distribution—do all classes of the people pay their equitable share?

In Mr. Magill's opinion, which is imposingly buttressed with facts, the federal government's tax system falls down on all three counts.

It is not adequate—the Treasury's report for the last fiscal year shows total receipts of a little more than $3,000,000,000 as against expenditures of $7,000,000,000. The deficit has actually exceeded total receipts!

It is not economical in administration—over a ten-year period, the cost of collection to the government (which is obviously the same thing, indirectly, as the cost to the taxpayer) has ranged as high as $2.17 per $100 of revenue, as compared to a high of $1.74 in Great Britain. In addition, the United States develops more than eighteen times as much litigation each year out of the income tax as does Great Britain.

And finally, the system is not equitable. One group of taxpayers pays more than it should—another less. And the existence of billions of dollars of government, state and municipal bonds, some free from all taxes, some free from one and not another, further complicates the problem of equitable distribution of the cost of government.

In brief, our federal tax system—along with that of other units of government—is wasteful, insufficient and outmoded. The welfare of the nation demands that it be thoroughly and realistically revised.

MILLBURN

Discussion concerning "Improving Personal Appearance" was led by County Home Adviser, Miss Florence Kimmelschue for twelve members of Hickory Unit of Home Bureau, who met at the home of Mrs. Clarence White Thursday afternoon, April 18, 1935.

Becoming hair arrangements and the new style of hats were tried on different members. A study was made of the numerous shades of rouge and lip-stick to find what was suitable to each combination of hair and skin coloring. "Simplicity is the key-note of good breeding," and this should be remembered in choosing accessories, including earrings, bracelets, beads, rings, gloves and purses. One guest, Mrs. William White, was present. It was reported that $6.50 was added to the treasury from refreshments served to the cast of the WLS barn-dance program. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Vose.

Mrs. George Edwards, Mrs. D. B. Webb, Mrs. E. A. Martin and Mrs. Eva Alling attended the Passion Play at Zion Thursday evening.

Miss Una Minto, who has spent the past few months in Massachusetts, is spending two weeks at the home of her brother, D. H. Minto.

The Resumption Act

In 1874 Senator John Sherman of Mansfield, Ohio, introduced the famous Resumption Act, which passed the senate the same year and the house early in 1875. In 1877 he was appointed secretary of the treasury by President Hayes, and in that position had the unique experience of carrying out the crowning triumph of his fiscal policy which as senator he had originated and advocated. Through his supervision the resumption of specie payments by the government was accomplished, despite the dismal forebodings of several practical, acknowledged financiers.

Weird Animals on Islands

On the Galapagos Islands, there still exist extraordinary animal forms that attracted Darwin's attention, such as birds that do not fly, turtles weighing hundreds of pounds that never go near the water, sea bats with wingspreads of 30 feet, dragons that rear their lengths in the air and walk on their tiny back legs, wild goats who enjoy drinking salt water, and a host of other equally weird animals.

Elephants Eat Trees

Trees strike one as making queer dishes, but elephants don't think so. There is nothing an African elephant likes better than an appetizing mimosa tree, some 20 feet in height. Pushing it over with his tusks, Jumbo will eat its leaves and shoots, its roots, and even the bark on its branches.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Ace of Spades

The ace of spades was called Spadille for the games of ombre and quadrille, and was used as an ingredient, together with two adders, twenty-four spiders, seven toads, and a ewe lamb's heart, for the concoction said to have assisted the Corsican witch to foretell Napoleon's career.—Pearson's Weekly.

Chinese Jews

The only known Chinese Jews have lived in Kailung, China, since 1163 A. D. For several hundred years, they kept their colony apart from the Chinese. Today, however, after numerous generations of intermarriage, the few who are left have almost entirely lost their original racial characteristics.—Collier's Weekly.

The Western Reserve

The Western Reserve is a tract of land of 3,664,921 acres near Lake Erie which was reserved by the State of Connecticut when the states ceded their western land to the federal government after the Revolutionary war. Connecticut gave up jurisdiction over Western Reserve in 1800, but kept title to the land and sold it to individual purchasers.

Indians First to Use Paint

Paint in earliest Colonial times was mainly a luxury, antiquarians have discovered. At first crudely mixed paint derived from clay, enhanced the appearance of room paneling or floor. When mahogany for cabinet work came into use, homemade furniture was often painted brick red in imitation of the expensive tropical wood.

WILMOT

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Pacey and daughter spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Austin at Richmond.

The M. E. Church party is scheduled for Friday night at the church parlors.

Mrs. Ferdinand Beck returned from the Woodstock hospital on Friday where she recently underwent an operation.

Glen Pacey is home from the Wisconsin University this week.

THE BETTER HOUSING PROGRAM

Civic leaders of this community are giving their unqualified endorsement to the Better Housing Program to be launched here during the month of May. They believe that the program will give great impetus to business rehabilitation and prove a tremendous aid in general welfare.

1. Idle dollars will be put to work.—These dollars have been idle because banks and other financial institutions have hesitated to loan the depositors' money for home modernization and construction. The cause for this hesitation has been removed by the Government insurance of such loans as provided in the National Housing Act. With the credit jam freed, with these unemployed dollars at work, the huge construction and building industry will be rejuvenated.

2. The revival of a greatly depressed industry resulting in millions of workers returning to remunerative employment.—Such an activity will stimulate all lines of business and will greatly accelerate the upward spiral of business recovery.

3. Better and bappier homes for thousands of American families is the third important objective of the National Housing Act.

The tremendous cessation of activity in the construction industry has brought this country to the point where inadequate housing has become a serious problem. There is an actual lack of hundreds of thousands of needed houses and thousands of old houses are deteriorating to the point of abandonment.

For 5 years general business conditions have not been good. Banks and other lending agencies require security and liquidity. These two requirements have been lacking so far as loans for modernization of existing homes and the building of new homes are concerned. The shrinkage in values of real property and other collateral has made it seem unwise for banks and other financial agencies to loan to home owners without further security. Then, again, unsecured personal loans of adequate length of time necessary for the purpose needed, even of the highest integrity, are not sufficiently liquid to meet the proper requirements of good banking practice.

To bring this idle money out into the open and cause it to go to work, the National Housing Act provides safety and liquidity.

With home and other property owners taking full advantage of the Better Housing Program, this community is certain to reap rich and important benefits. With credit flowing more freely and idle money at work, many of our unemployed will once more find themselves on pay rolls. Every business here will be stimulated. The spiral of business recovery will move more rapidly upward, carrying our whole community to higher levels of living and prosperity.

WHEN SPRING IS IN THE AIR

This is the time of year when that seasonal "disease," spring fever, runs its course. One of its more common manifestations is an urge to clean up one's property, in order to get rid of winter's accumulation of rubbish, both indoors and out.

For many years village officials in Antioch have cooperated with property owners in the annual spring clean up, and this year May 3 and 4 has been designated as the time when village trucks will haul rubbish for householders free of charge.

These individual clean-up campaigns are usually inaugurated for the purpose of improving a home's physical appearance—but, whether the property-owner realizes it or not, they likewise contribute toward fattening his pocketbook, inasmuch as they eliminate many ordinary and unnecessary fire hazards.

The attic is one of the places in the home where odds and ends accumulate—and it is also one of the commonest starting places for residential fires. That accumulation of ancient newspapers—those dog-eared magazines—those old clothes which you'll never wear again—that broken down furniture, all offer an invitation to fire. Start your clean-up campaign by giving these cast-offs to the needy, either directly or through some local charitable organization, where they can give comfort and use again. Then burn the sheer rubbish—and be sure to accomplish that latter task on a windless day, with the aid of an incinerator.

Closets should be subjected to the same process. And the chances are that your basement is in about the same state of disorder as your attic. Due to the nearness of the heating plant, basements are one of the most prolific sources of fire and should be kept free of papers, rags and improperly stored inflammables.

Spring is likewise an excellent time for having the furnace and heating equipment gone over, to prepare it for fall. Another worth-while job is inspection of electric wiring—old, defective and sub-standard wiring starts many a fire.

Spring is here! Clean up—lest you burn up.

THE TOO WELL REMEMBERED MAN

In a recent article in "Fortune," Rosewell Magill, professor of law at Columbia, discusses the plight of the "Too Well Remembered Man"—the American taxpayer.

Mr. Magill points out that there are three basic criteria to apply as yardsticks to any tax system. The first of these is adequacy—does the system produce as much revenue as is needed. The second is economy in administration—how much of each tax dollar is required to pay the costs of collection? The third is fairness in distribution—do all classes of the people pay their equitable share?

In Mr. Magill's opinion, which is imposingly buttressed with facts, the federal government's tax system falls down on all three counts.

It is not adequate—the Treasury's report for the last fiscal year shows total receipts of a little more than $3,000,000,000 as against expenditures of $7,000,000,000. The deficit has actually exceeded total receipts!

It is not economical in administration—over a ten-year period, the cost of collection to the government (which is obviously the same thing, indirectly, as the cost to the taxpayer) has ranged as high as $2.17 per $100 of revenue, as compared to a high of $1.74 in Great Britain. In addition, the United States develops more than eighteen times as much litigation each year out of the income tax as does Great Britain.

And finally, the system is not equitable. One group of taxpayers pays more than it should—another less. And the existence of billions of dollars of government, state and municipal bonds, some free from all taxes, some free from one and not another, further complicates the problem of equitable distribution of the cost of government.

In brief, our federal tax system—along with that of other units of government—is wasteful, insufficient and outmoded. The welfare of the nation demands that it be thoroughly and realistically revised.

Becoming hair arrangements and the new style of hats were tried on different members. A study was made of the numerous shades of rouge and lip-stick to find what was suitable to each combination of hair and skin coloring. "Simplicity is the key-note of good breeding," and this should be remembered in choosing accessories, including earrings, bracelets, beads, rings, gloves and purses. The Resumption Act

In 1874 Senator John Sherman of Mansfield, Ohio, introduced the famous Resumption Act, which passed the senate the same year and the house early in 1875. In 1877 he was appointed secretary of the treasury by President Hayes, and in that position had the unique experience of carrying out the crowning triumph of his fiscal policy which as senator he had originated and advocated. Through his supervision the resumption of specie payments by the government was accomplished, despite the dismal forebodings of several practical, acknowledged financiers.

Weird Animals on Islands

On the Galapagos islands, there still exist extraordinary animal forms that attracted Darwin's attention, such as birds that do not fly, turtles weighing hundreds of pounds that never go near the water, sea bats with wingspreads of 30 feet, dragons that rear their lengths in the air and walk on their tiny back legs, wild goats who enjoy drinking salt water, and a host of other equally weird animals.

Elephants Eat Trees

Trees strike one as making queer dishes, but elephants don't think so. There is nothing an African elephant likes better than an appetizing mimosa tree, some 20 feet in height. Pushing it over with his tusks, Jumbo will eat its leaves and shoots, its roots, and even the bark on its branches.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Ace of Spades

The ace of spades was called Spadille for the games of ombre and quadrille, and was used as an ingredient, together with two adders, twenty-four spiders, seven toads, and a ewe lamb's heart, for the concoction said to have assisted the Corsican witch to foresee Napoleon's career.—Pearson's Weekly.

Chinese Jews

The only known Chinese Jews have lived in Kaitung, China, since 1160 A. D. For several hundred years, they kept their colony apart from the Chinese. Today, however, after numerous generations of intermarriage, the few who are left have almost entirely lost their original racial characteristics.—Collier's Weekly.

The Western Reserve

The Western Reserve is a tract of land of 2,800,000 acres near Lake Erie which was reserved by the State of Connecticut when the states ceded their western land to the federal government after the Revolutionary war. Connecticut gave up jurisdiction over Western Reserve in 1800, but kept title to the land and sold it to individual purchasers.

Indians First to Use Paint

Paint in earliest Colonial times was mainly a luxury, antiquarians have discovered. At first crudely mixed paint derived from clay, enhanced the appearance of room paneling or floor. When mahogany for cabinet work came into use, homemade furniture was often painted bright red in imitation of the expensive tropical wood.

TESTS REVEAL

HIDDEN HUNGER IN BABY CHICKS

Select Starting Feed With Care, Expert Advises.

It is the lot of every baby chick to come into the world with an inherent urge to live and grow. This mysterious life impulse can best be defined as "hidden hunger," according to C. S. Johnson, poultry nutrition expert.

"Hidden hunger," however, Johnson says, "is more than a mere insatiable desire for food. It is far more subtle and complex than that. Hidden hunger is really a variety of distinct appetites, every one of which must be fully satisfied by intelligent feeding every day of that chick's life if it is to grow and develop profitably."

"Mineral hunger is one appetite. Mineral hunger is another. There's also protein hunger, a hunger for necessary bulk in the ration, a hunger for the varied food materials that build frame, flesh, and feathers. Failure to supply enough material needed to satisfy any one or more of these hidden hungers leaves a chick in a starved condition no matter what quantity of food it has access to. Chicks are just like children in this respect. A child's stomach can be crammed with food until it becomes pot-bellied, and yet that infant may be suffering from rickets, pellagra, beriberi, or other evidence of undernourishment because of vitamin, protein, or mineral shortage in the diet. There are thousands of such cases of malnutrition in this country every year—children, chicks, pigs, babies of all kinds, getting lots to eat but actually starving because their food doesn't fully satisfy all of those natural hungers."

Discovery and Development
"Only in recent years," says Johnson, "has science come to realize the existence of these hidden chick hungers and to take the proper steps to identify and provide for them in an adequate chick feeding program. For chick nutrition—that is, the intelligent feeding of chicks to supply all their needs—is a comparatively new thing when one considers that the first starting mash came on the market less than fifteen years ago."

"Before 1910, chicks were usually started on corn bread or a little ground grain, with boiled eggs sometimes added to furnish the protein requirement of the ration. Later oatmeal began to be used and a little clabber milk or cottage cheese included for protein content. With this kind of hit-or-miss feeding the hidden hungers of baby chicks were just partially provided for. The result was that before 1910 not over 50% of the chicks lived, and an average weight of 3 1/2 pounds per bird at six weeks was considered good."

"In the decade between 1910 and 1920, laying mash was generally fed to baby chicks. It was not until after 1920 that starting mashes began to be developed. These rations, which did a better job of feeding the hidden hunger appetites of chicks, contributed to raising the average livability to 75%, and chick weight at six weeks to an average of approximately three-quarters of a pound."

Further Improvements
"Intent on further improving these standards of production, nutritional scientists gradually began to study the problems of chick development from the inside out. Not long after 1920, Purina Mills' research and experimental feeding staff started on such a program that was to continue for many years in the pursuit of two important

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 21.
The Golden Text was, "Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation" (Hebrews 9:28).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were afar off are made nigh by the blood of Christ. For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us; For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father. Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of God" (Ephesians 2:13, 14, 18, 19).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "That God's wrath should be vented upon His beloved Son, is divinely unnatural. Such a theory is man-made. The atonement is a hard problem in theology, but its scientific explanation is, that suffering is an error of sinful sense which Truth destroys, and that eventually both sin and suffering will fall at the feet of everlasting Love" (p. 23).

Young Couple Wed; Keep Secret 10 Months

The query—Can a woman keep a secret?—was answered in the affirmative here last week when it was revealed that two of Antioch's popular young people had stolen a march on their friends by quietly getting married ten months ago in Chicago.

The contracting parties in the case are Gertrude Rothers, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Rothers of Grass Lake, and Lester Osmond, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Osmond, Antioch. The news of the matrimonial venture came as a confession by the parties that they were married last July 9th in a civil ceremony performed at the city hall. On April 17th a second ceremony was solemnized by Father Dalley at the Holy Name cathedral in Chicago.

The wedding is a culmination of a high school romance, the bride being a junior in the local school, and the groom having been graduated with the class of 1934.

EARLY LAYERS BEST PAYERS, RECORDS SHOW

Either get the pullets in the nests and laying consistently from October through January, or don't count on making any money on this year's poultry project.

This timely admonition is now being voiced to poultry raisers by leading authorities on egg production and prices. One conspicuous source of this advice, G. S. Vickers, Manager of the Ohio Poultry Improvement Association, cites some very impressive facts to point out how and where money is made or lost each season in poultry operations.

AVERAGE U.S. EGG PRICES AT THE FARM
10 years average - U.S.D.A.

"The records from 301 farms in Ohio," says Vickers, "show that the poultrymen who made the highest profits had the highest fall and winter egg production when egg prices were highest. Every poultryman who got less than 36 eggs per bird during October, November, December, and January lost money."

This statement appears to be thoroughly substantiated by the national ten-year average of egg prices at the farm as prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture and illustrated in the accompanying chart. The upturn in egg prices which every year for the past 10 has reached its peak in December, graphically supports the contention of all expert opinion and experience that money is either made or lost by the way the birds produce the eggs in the deciding four months' period from October 1st to February 1st.

All folks whose chances of making money out of their chickens come principally through egg production, should face the foregoing facts squarely, according to poultry adviser J. H. McAdams, and make sure right now that they are following a program of handling and growing their chicks and pullets so that they will be ready to come into profitable production by October 1st. Now is the time to do something about it, he says; next fall will be too late.

"To begin with," says McAdams, "it is not natural for a hen to lay heavily during the fall and winter months. But if poultry raising is to continue profitable, it is absolutely necessary that the manager of this year's flock, starting with the selection of chicks and continuing right on through to the laying house, should be so planned and guided to get that heavy fall egg production even though nature is not working directly with the feeder. Such a management program must include certain definite steps which must be followed through."

Careful Chick Selection
"First, there is the selecting of the chicks. Since they are to be the foundation of the season's work, the chicks should come from a flock that has proved itself capable of heavy, profitable egg production during those months of the year when eggs bring the best prices."

"Having carefully selected the chicks, the next essential step is to have and maintain adequate brooder equipment for them. Before the chicks arrive, brooder houses should be put in order by removing, cleaning, and disinfecting all movable equipment—roosts, nesting boxes, feed hoppers. Then with broom and hoe a good surface cleaning inside the brooders should be administered. A thorough scrubbing with lye and water is next in order. After that the ceiling, walls, and floor should be disinfected by brushing with a solution of 1-8 pint of Purina cresofol in a gallon of water, followed by a thorough airing of all equipment."

Correct Brooder Temperature
Dependable heating facilities must be available so that the brooder houses can be kept at even temperature at all times, free of draft, but with good ventilation. A temperature of from 90° to 95° at back level is recommended when the chicks go in. This should be gradually reduced the first two or three weeks until the temperature stands at 80° to 85° after three weeks; then continued gradual reduction is advised until by the time the chicks are six weeks old the temperature is from 60° to 65°. Litter, if used, may be a good grade of peat moss, or shavings or clean cut straw from which the chaffy part has been removed. Or the brooder house may be equipped with a false floor so the chicks themselves stand on half-inch mesh half screen wire instead of a litter. When a litter is used it is wise to cover it with newspapers or burlap bags for a few days, until the chicks have learned what food is and where to find it.

Overcrowding of chicks should positively be avoided. Suffocation, general unhealthiness, and disease are liable to take a heavy toll when too many chicks are crowded into the brooders. Not more than 250 chicks to a brooder space ten by twelve feet, are recommended. Plenty of drinking and feeding space should also be provided for—allowing a feeding hopper and a drinking fountain for every 50 birds, at the start.

Freezing Water
Cold water will freeze first, being nearer the freezing temperature than the hot water. It is true, however, that water which has been boiled and then cooled will freeze more readily than water at the same temperature which has not been boiled. This is due to the fact that most of the dissolved air has been boiled out, increasing the thermal conductivity.

R. Putnam, associate director of the northern Illinois division of the FHA. More than 100 building tradesmen were put to work last week as a result of the housing exhibit being conducted in the Olympic building, Cicero.

"Building permits have already been granted for $23,175 worth of work," states Joseph J. Mochus, Cicero building commissioner and secretary of the Better Housing executive committee. "For immediate construction, and applications for more than $40,000 more have come into the office."

The home of J. Zajicek, 2824 S. Austin Boulevard, Cicero, has had a complete spring cleaning inside and outside. An amount of $471.50, a loan through the FHA was spent for modernization. This amount made the difference between an eye-sore and a modern comfortable home. In the original home there was little pride of ownership, for several clap-boards were off and the roof leaked; windows and doors rattled letting in the chilly blasts. Mr. Zajicek's primary investment of $471, the actual cost of his remodeling job, in no way equals the value to his home of his investment, for the appearance, comfort and convenience has certainly increased the value from about $1200 to $1500.

"Not only is he saving on coal but the 'room for rent' sign has disappeared," Mr. Putnam explains, "for he has rented a room he could not rent before. This gives him an additional income of at least $12.00 a month which will take care of the monthly payment to his bank on this FHA installment loan."

Depreciation has been arrested on the value of his home and his investment increased without any cash outlay due to the convenience of the FHA installment payment plan. The owner was urged to make this change by Howard A. Otte, manager of the financial relations.

Mr. Putnam states that of all the suburban housing exhibits, none has done better than Cicero. Since the exhibit opened, more than 25,000 persons have attended and the effect has been a distinct upward trend in the building industry. The exhibit has aided home owners to decide how to modernize and improve their home.

Over half the work for which building permits have been requested will be paid for with FHA installment loans. The remainder will be paid for from the owners' private capital, according to Mayor Joseph Cerny, chairman of the Better Housing executive committee who states the FHA program has brought a miraculous impetus of business to Cicero.

The Gregorian Calendar

Britain was neither the first nor last country to adopt the Gregorian calendar. The modern calendar was promulgated by Pope Gregory XIII in 1582, and adopted at once by Spain, Portugal and part of Italy, the remainder of the Catholic world soon following. Great Britain adopted the new style in 1752, and Sweden and Tuscany about the same time. But Russia clung to the Julian calendar until after the 1917 revolution, and the Greek church did not give it up until 1923.

A Forgotten Adviser

Alexander Hamilton, the great first secretary of the treasury, had a son, James A. Hamilton (1788-1878), a remarkable, little-known or remembered mysterious figure whose advice was listened to by many administrations and Presidents of both political parties.

Real Jetsam
Coal-black jet was the craze of the Victorian age, says Tit-Bits Magazine. It was used in all kinds of jewelry, chains, pendants, brooches, and buttons, and the working of jet is one of the oldest industries in the country. In the villages around Whitby, in Yorkshire, rough brown lumps of jet are still collected. It is found in seams and sometimes pieces are picked up on the seashore, worked smooth by the pounding waves.
